Our Financial Policy

Welcome to the office of Psychological and Life Skills Associates, P.C. In order to ensure the efficiency of our practice, we wish to explain our policy with regard to financial responsibility for sessions with the psychotherapists from this office.

All payments are due prior to each session. If we are in network with your insurance carrier, a copay/coinsurance is expected. Our office will then file to your insurance carrier for the remaining amount owed. Benefits quoted by your insurer are not a guarantee of payment. If you have out of network benefits they will reimburse to you directly. During office hour's payment may be given to your psychotherapist or the office staff. After hours, payment is due to your therapist at the time of service. With so many insurance carriers, policies, and various benefit packages available, we will help you with your insurance filing but we cannot guarantee payment or accept responsibility for negotiating your claim(s). It is important that you understand the provisions of your insurance policy.

Our Late Cancellation/No-Show Policy

If you are unable to keep a scheduled appointment, you are required to give us at least a 24- hour notice. Late cancellations (with less than 24 hour notice) and No Shows (missing a scheduled appointment) are charged $75 each time, regardless of the reason. For all group sessions, you will be charged $25. This fee cannot be billed to insurance. _____ (Initials)

Child/Adolescent Therapy Contract

Prior to beginning treatment, it is important for you to understand my approach to therapy and agree to some rules about your child's confidentiality during the course of his/her treatment. The information herein is in addition to the information contained in the Patient-Therapist Agreement. Under HIPAA and the APA Ethics Code, I am legally and ethically responsible to provide you with informed consent. As we go forward, I will try to remind you of important issues as they arise.

One risk of child therapy involves disagreement among parents and/or disagreement between parents and therapist regarding the best interests of the child. If such disagreements occur, I will strive to listen carefully so that I can understand your perspectives and fully explain my perspective. We can resolve such disagreements or we can agree to disagree, so long as this enables your child's therapeutic progress. Ultimately, you will decide whether therapy will continue. If either of you decides that therapy should end, I will honor that decision, however I ask that you allow me the option of having a few closing sessions to appropriately end the treatment relationship.

Therapy is most effective when a trusting relationship exists between the psychotherapist and the patient. Privacy is especially important in securing and maintaining that trust. One goal of treatment is to promote a stronger and better relationship between children and their parents. However, it is often necessary for children to develop a "zone of privacy" whereby they feel free to discuss personal matters with greater freedom. This is particularly true for adolescents who are naturally developing a greater sense of independence and autonomy.

It is my policy to provide you with general information about treatment status. I will raise issues that may impact your child either inside or outside the home. If it is necessary to refer your child to another mental health professional with more specialized skills, I will share that information with you. I will not share with you what your child has disclosed to me without your child's consent. I will tell you if your child does not attend sessions.

If your child is an adolescent, it is possible that he/she will reveal sensitive information regarding sexual contact, alcohol and drug use, or other potentially problematic behaviors. Sometimes these behaviors are within the range of normal adolescent experimentation, but at other times they may require parental intervention. We must carefully and directly discuss your feelings and opinions regarding acceptable behavior. If I ever believe that your child is at serious risk of harming him/herself or another, I will inform you.

Although my responsibility to your child may require my involvement in conflicts between the two of you, I need your agreement that my involvement will be strictly limited to that which will benefit your child. This means, among other things, that you will treat anything that is said in session with me as confidential. Neither of you will attempt to gain advantage in any legal proceeding between the two of you from my involvement with your children. In particular, I need your agreement that in any such proceedings, neither of you will ask me to testify in court, whether in person, or by affidavit. You also agree to instruct your attorneys not to subpoena me or to refer in any court filing to anything I have said or done.

Note that such agreement may not prevent a judge from requiring my testimony, even though I will work to prevent such an event. If I am required to testify, I am ethically bound not to give my opinion about either parent's custody or visitation suitability. If the court appoints a custody evaluator, guardian ad litem, or parenting coordinator, I will provide information as needed (if appropriate releases are signed or a court order is provided), but I will not make any recommendation about the final decision. Furthermore, if I am required to participate in any court-related activities, the party responsible for my participation agrees to pay me a $6000 retainer and reimburse me $400 per hour for time spent traveling, preparing reports, testifying, being in attendance, and any other case-related costs.
